Pope Changed Great Deal Since His Recent Illness

(Copyright 1938 by United Press)

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 21 (UP) — The United Press learns that Pope Pius has changed a great deal since his recent illness. He has lost much weight, but feels well. He is less stern and formal.

The pontiff was critically ill for months. Due to vericose veins it was almost impossible for him to move his legs. When he began to recover, he went to the papal summer residence at Castel Gandolfo for a period of recuperation and only recently returned to the Vatican.

He lost much weight during his illness. His clothes fit loosely.

There is less of the stern formality about his relations with his colleagues. Frequently he remarks to close friends that he feels even better than before his illness.

Friends Pay Respects to W. H. Brereton

Business associates, lodge brothers and lifelong friends and acquaintances from Provo and out-of-town joined family members in paying final tribute to the memory of William H. Brereton, president of the State bank of Provo, and the Utah Timber and Coal company, at funeral services held at the Elks' home Sunday afternoon.

Clyde Scott of Provo, grand master of the I. O. O. F. lodge of Utah, presided at the largely attended services. A wealth of beautiful floral tributes bespeaks the high respect, love and sympathy of many friends.

Mr. Brereton, 80, whose death occurred Wednesday morning at his home, had been an active member of the I. O. O. F. lodge for 45 years, having served as grand master of Utah, and in other state and local capacities.

The Rev. Edwin F. Irwin of the Community church, offered the invocation, and two beautiful selections were sung by the B.Y.U. male quartet. Remarks were made by W. N. Gundry, grand secretary of the Utah Odd Fellows lodge; Harvey H. Cluff, another prominent lodge official, both of Salt Lake City; Alvin Strong of the Utah State Na-

UTAH STAKE CONFERENCE CONCLUDED

Bowen Urges Adherence To L. D. S. Ideals At All Times

Steadfast adherence to Latter-day Saint ideals no matter whether it brings praise or criticism from the world was the counsel of the members of the church by Elder Albert E. Bowen of the Council of Twelve Apostles, speaking at the Sunday afternoon session of the Utah stake quarterly conference.

Elder Bowen who represented the general authorities of the church at the two general sessions, Sunday and the priesthood session, Saturday night, declared in developing the theme of his address, that it was far more important to him that the members of the church are sure of their foundations, than to bask in praise uttered by non-members of the church in current national publications.

New Stake Clerk—

Ole E. Olsen Jr., formerly an alternate member of the high council, was sustained as stake clerk by the conference, when his name was submitted by President T. N. Taylor to take the place of the late E. H. Holt who filled the position for nearly 40 years. President Taylor paid a glowing tribute to the faithful labors of Mr. Holt in the stake clerk position. He expressed the irreparable loss sustained by the Utah stake in his passing. He recalled his faithfulness, his willingness to serve, and devotion to duty and told of the great love and esteem in which he had been held by the members of the stake presidency, the high council and the rank and file.

President W. Monroe Paxman, second counselor in the stake presidency, in a brief address urged closer cooperation among the members of the church to help those less fortunate, become self-sustaining, in the church welfare program. He said one of the Opening of Bids Set Tuesday On Tunnel Projects

Bids will be opened a second time on Olmstead and Alpine-Draper tunnels of the Deer Creek project tomorrow at 10 a. m. in south courtroom, city and county building.

First bids were cancelled when it was found the Stroud-Seabrook-Elliott-Kemper combine bid less than the other eight bids submitted and opened October 27, was in deep error.

Bids will be opened by E. O. Larson, reclamation engineer in charge of the project E. H. Carter, office engineer J. J. Berger, associate engineer and E. J. Farrell, chief clerk.

The low bidder will be given 30 days after formal award in which to begin work, and work is expected before severe weather conditions set in. Bids will be sent to Denver and Washington from where the formal award will be announced.

Municipal League Leaders to Meet

State Municipal League of Utah officials and legislative committee will discuss their legislative program with Utah county city officials and legislators Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. in Hotel Roberts reports Mayor Mark Anderson, first vice president of the state group.

Gerald Irvine, Salt Lake City, league legislative chairman, will be principal speaker. It is not the intention of the league to seek to "pledge" any legislator to its program, but merely to invite the group together for information and consultation, the mayor indicated.

LOSS OF EYE SUFFERED IN GUN MISHAP

13-Year Old Boy Shot By Brother In Cedar Valley

A gun-shot charge shot accidentally fired into the face and neck of Ervin Richards, 13, Union, Salt Lake county, by his brother, Gene, 16, while the two were hunting in Cedar Valley Sunday morning will cause the loss of the boy's left eye, Deputy Sheriff John S. Evans of Lehi reported today.

They were hunting with three others when Ervin apparently came or was in the line of fire as his brother pulled the trigger on a rabbit. The boys was rushed to Lehi hospital where he was reported improved this morning after being pronounced "low" last night.

The youth's gun was a 12 gauge and was fired from about 100 feet, Evans said. The party was hunting in brush land.

AGED RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Rasmus Anderson, 91, one of the oldest residents of Provo, passed away Sunday evening. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 12:30 p. m. at the Hatch-Quist funeral home.

Mr. Anderson was born in Holstead, Jutland, Denmark, Dec. 1, 1847, the son of Andrew Hans Anderson and Ann Catharina Rasmussen. He emigrated to Utah at 24 years of age and had been a resident of Provo since 1918. In that year he moved into the Fifth ward. He retired in 1923 and since that time had been living at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Thea A. Jacob, 415 East Eighth North.

After reaching Utah in 1871, Mr. Anderson settled in murray where he was employed by a smelter for ten years. From Murray he went to Wasatch county.

Mr. Anderson was a devoted L. D. S. church worker. He was a member of the Utah stake High Council quorum at the time of his death. For 22 years he served in

Grange Demands Senate Pass On Trade Treaties

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 22 (U.P.)—The National Grange declaring treaties to date have discriminated against the farmers today demanded legislation requiring that all trade treaties be subject to ratification by the U. S. senate, in a resolution passed at the 72nd Grange convention.

National Master Louis J. Taber said the Grange's policy had been "tariff for all or tariff for none."

"The farmer is asking no special privileges for agriculture," the resolution said. "The protective tariff has protected industry and the immigration law has protected American labor."

The Grange was on record with a vigorous stand on peace.

WPA TO SLASH RELIEF ROLLS REPORT SAYS

To Drop Those With Good Prospects
Of Employment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(U.P.)—The Works Progress Administration; it was learned today, is preparing to drop thousands of persons from its relief rolls to make its $1,500,000,000 appropriation last until March 1, 1939.

This plan was revealed by reliable sources who said that WPA Administrator Hopkins might issue a formal statement in a few days.

Administration officials said that the "truly needy" would be kept on the rolls and that those who have good prospects of employment would be dropped.

Such a step would follow instructions by President Roosevelt last month to make the full relief appropriation suffice until March. In his annual budget revision early last summer, however, he estimated that an additional $500,000,000 would be required for relief expenditures through June 30, 1939, the end of the current fiscal year.

On Oct. 8 there were a record 3,136,116 persons on WPA rolls and more than half the relief appropriation had been spent.

Industrial areas, where re-employment has been more noticeable, will bear the brunt of the cut, it was understood. In the areas where seasonal occupations predominate, the rolls will be reduced the least.

Municipal League Legislative Plan Bared at Meeting

Utah county's state legislators heard the legislative program of the State Municipal League of Utah explained this afternoon at a dinner in Hotel Roberts, at which Mayor Mark Anderson of Provo, first vice president of the league, presided. About 30 attended.

City officials of the county also were guests at the dinner. Gerald Irvine, Salt Lake City, league legislative committee chairman, explained briefly the program of the league and Tom McCoy, executive secretary, and Mayor Anderson elaborated.

Nine Recommendations—Legislative committee recommendations include:

1. Designation of what officers are to be elected in third class cities, and make such ruling uniform in state.

2. A law permitting municipalities to decide at what figure they will sell surplus water and not permit state public service com-

NINE BID ON S. L. AQUEDUCT TUNNEL JOBS

Work Should Begin On Tunnels In Less
Than 30 Days

Apparent low bidder on the Alpine-Draper and Olmsted tunnels of the Deer Creek project is George K. Thompson and company, Los Angeles; bids were opened by bureau of reclamation officials here this morning. Nine firms from three states bid.

Bids will be tabulated and abstracted at the reclamation office here today, then forwarded to Denver and Washington offices from where formal award will be made. Work must begin within 30 days after formal notice to proceed. Six hundred-fifty calendar days are allowed for completion.

Stipulation Made—Thompson and Company's bid was accompanied by a stipulation that it was for both the tunnels or for the Alpine-Draper alone.

Bids were opened by C. H. Carter, office engineer; E. O. Larson, construction engineer; F. J. Farrell, chief clerk; J. J. Berger, associate engineer. All bids were accompanied by 10 per cent, or more bonds.
